The Sea of Trolls by Nancy Farmer

Young Jack, bard-in-training, is kidnapped and enslaved by a wild band of Viking raiders and must outwit his captors to save both himself and his sister. The Vikings' half-troll queen orders Jack on a quest to Troll-land, where he battles giant spiders, troll-bears, and a protective mother dragon to find the magical well that will restore the queen's beauty. Steeped in Norse mythology, this fantasy features grand themes: growing up, overcoming odds, and choosing good over evil.

Talon by Julie Kagawa

Hunted to near extinction by the Order of St. George, dragons learned to shift into human form and established Talon to infiltrate human society. Young dragon Ember has been sent to California with her brother Dante to practice being human before their final placement. While Dante has never questioned his place in Talon, Ember relishes the chance to be a carefree teenager for once. A run-in with Riley, a rogue who fled Talon, causes her to doubt her place in the organization. Meanwhile, Garrett, a skilled St. George soldier, arrives to hunt dragons and destroy them, only to find that Ember, his chief suspect, is not the ruthless killer he has been trained to expect. The militarized conflict between Talon and St. George provides plenty of excitement, but this is mostly a classic star-crossed romance between two (potentially three) people questioning long-held beliefs.
